These trains do not stop in Carson but a few minutes, being through trains.

A Disease that Wrecks the System.

Every function is deranged, every nerve unstrung, every muscle and fiber weakened by fever and ague. It is, in fact, a disease which if unchecked, eventually wrecks the system. In all its types, in every phase, it is dangerous, destructive. Stupor, delirium, convulsions, often attend it, and cause swift dissolution. But when combated with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, its foothold in the system is dislodged, and every vestige of it eradicated. That benign, yet powerful, specific and preventive of the dreaded scourge is recognized not only within our own boundaries, but in tropic lands far beyond them, where intermittents are fearfully prevalent, to be a sure antidote for the malarial poison and a reliable means of overcoming disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, of which a vitiated torrid atmosphere and brackish unsalubrious water are extremely provocative. All emigrants and travelers should be supplied with it.

HIGH-HANDED OUTRAGE

The Eureka and Palisade Railroad Company, through Edgar Mills, have procured the discharge of Fred E. Fisk from the employ of Reinhart & Co., of Eureka, because Fisk, who was a member of the Legislature, voted for the Woodburn bill, and the railroad is getting "even" on him, and propose to place Mr. Dayton, Senator from Lincoln county, in his place; the latter gentleman was a friend of the railroad throughout the entire session. Using its power, the Co. threatened to put in an opposition store to Reinhart & Co., if their request was not complied with. This is as dirty a proceeding as anyone could be guilty of, and should forever be remembered against the Eureka road.

From the San Francisco Post we learn that the California State Fish Commissioners during the past year distributed in the summit and coastal streams of the State 40,000 Cloud river and 50,000 Eastern trout and 10,000 catfish, and put 40,000 whitefish lately hatched into the Eagle, Donner, Tahoe and other lakes of the State. The 40,000 salmon ordered from Maine will not come, the weather having been too cold there to admit of hatching. Next month Livingstone Stone will bring out a carload of lobsters, striped bass and eels. The lobsters will be placed near the heads of the Farallones. The bass will be distributed in the bay at the points where the streams come in, and the eels will be put in sloughs connecting with salt water. The eels brought here three years ago have done well. Shad are becoming plentiful and about 100 per week are caught in the bay. Next year 50,000 will be put in the waters on the coast. The aquarium car, which comes out next month, will bring out a lot of king carp, of the kind imported from Europe to the Eastern States some years ago. They will be placed in the sloughs of the interior until they propagate.

HONORS TO MINISTER WHITE.—Mr. White will sail for Europe on the 15th of May to enter upon the discharge of his duties as Minister at Berlin. The evening of the 8th of May has been fixed upon as the time when a complimentary reception and banquet will be given to Mr. White and the Vanderbilt House, in New York city, selected as the place. Mayor Vann will preside. C. B. Sedgwick, of Syracuse, and Chancellor E. O. Haven, of Syracuse University, will be chosen vice presidents. Invitations to be present will be sent to the following named persons:—President Hayes, Vice President Wheeler, Senators Conkling and Kernan, Secretary of State Evarts, General Hawley, of Connecticut, George William Curtis and Erastus Brooks, of New York Tribune; Charles E. Fitch, of the Rochester Democrat, several of the faculty of the Cornell University and E. G. Spaulding, of Buffalo.

THE Bulletin says it is now ascertained that the action of the National Bank in offering to take $150,000,000 in 4 per cent. bonds was not so heroic, after all. It gave them control of the market, by taking them out of the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury. This secured to the banks a monopoly of the bonds. They assume but little risk in the matter, since if they cannot sell them for cash, they hold $70,698,850 in Ten-forty bonds that they can turn over to the Secretary at the end of ninety days, so much cash on account of their subscription.

LAST Sunday, W. J. Walker of Unionville, got on a colt belonging to Pau. Laveaga, to ride him about town. The colt had not been handled for some time, and he bucked a few times, after which he walked off quietly. While going along the street, his rider fell off, the fall breaking his neck and killing him instantly. It is supposed that deceased, who had been troubled with heart disease, fainted and fell off after the colt stopped bucking.

DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL.—Senator G. Mason's bill providing for the establishment of an "Asylum for the Indigent Poor and Maimed of the State of Nevada," which was taken before the Supreme Court to test its constitutionality, has been declared unconstitutional by that august tribunal. The opinion is by Judge Beatty, and concurred in by Judges Hawley and Leonard.

POSTOFFICES have been established at New Boston, Esmeralda county, Thos. E. Cull, Postmaster; Willow Point, Humboldt county, Asa Moore, Postmaster. John B. Newman has been appointed Postmaster at Candelaria, Esmeralda county; Harry Fetherstone, at Ely, White Pine county; Joseph A. Smith, at Fort Bidwell.

JOURNALISTIC GOOD FAITH.

Mary Brecker brought a suit against the New York Sun newspaper to recover $2,000 damages for alleged libel in having published a false report that she had eloped with her father-in-law. The case was tried before Judge McAdam and a jury, in Part 2 of the Marine Court, on the 21st, the plaintiff being represented by Mr. Peter Cook and the defendant by Mr. Willard Bartlett. The defense was, although there had been no retraction of the alleged false report, yet it had been published in good faith and without malice. In charging the jury Judge McAdam gave a very clear statement of the extent of protection which the law gives to journalists while acting in good faith. He stated that the question of good faith was important in estimating the damages to be allowed in all cases where the publication is untrue. If the publication be true that fact was in itself a defence to a civil action for damages according to the laws of this State whether the motives which led to the publication were good or bad. Newspapers, of necessity, in getting news must rely upon information furnished by others; and the right to publish such news, when not abused or perverted, was what is commonly called the "liberty of the press," the freedom of which, in its proper sphere, was entitled to protection in all courts of justice. The jury gave plaintiff a verdict of $50. This verdict seemed to have been based on the theory that the publishers having been made acquainted with the falsity of the report after it was made it became their duty to make a correction, even though no request to that effect had been made by the aggrieved party.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says the Republicans are universally delighted with the message, and generally regard that point of ability and effective presentation of the position upon which they intend to stand before the country, it has far exceeded their expectations. The Democrats insist that the President's argument, denying the necessity of any further legislation to prevent military interference with elections is not conclusive, but that on the contrary it is evasive of the merits of the main question involved in the pending bill. They concede, however, that the message as a whole is a strong document, and likely to produce an effect upon the country which will make the maintenance of their present attitude in Congress upon this question a matter of at least debatable expediency.

In his veto message Hayes takes pains to notify the House that he will not approve any bill designed to weaken the power of Government to protect the freedom of elections. This remark is obviously intended to foreshadow the veto of the Legislative Appropriation bill now pending in the Senate, if it contains, when it reaches him, the political clauses engrafted on it by order of the caucus. The message argues at length against the practice of including general legislation in appropriation bills.

MARYLAND SENATOR.—The decline of Mr. Whyte to be reelected Senator from Maryland is caused by domestic affliction. A few days ago he lost his daughter-in-law, to whom he was much attached and his wife is seriously ill of a chronic malady, which threatens a fatal termination. All the indications point to the selection of Robert M. McLane as his successor.

THE Louisville Constitutional Convention is in session at New Orleans. It being understood that a majority of the delegates favor the abolishment of fees of certain officials, paying salaries instead, lobbying on the part of those threatened with a reduction has already commenced.

THE Democratic candidate for Tax Collector of Storey county is J. A. Mahanny, of the Footlight. The only thing that can be scored against Mr. Mahanny is that he is a Democrat, otherwise he would fill the office to which he aspires as well as any man in his city.

THE Carson Post of the Grand Army of the Republic will decorate the graves of the Union dead on the 30th of May. Other Societies and Union-loving people will in due time be invited to assist in the ceremonies of the day.

THE law prohibiting opium smoking in Nevada, under a penalty of $1,000 fine or two years' imprisonment, goes into effect to day.

THE Ward Reflex is now the only paper published in White Pine county. The Cherry Creek Independent has quit.

MAYNARD, the convict who escaped from the State Prison about ten days ago, was captured at Bodio a day or two since by J. M. Massey, Deputy Sheriff of Mono county.

Burns' review stock is quoted in New York at $9.

A SEVERE CRITIC.

"This is the editor, eh?" said a weak and timid man, as he entered the sanctum, removed his hat, and leaned his dyspeptic umbrella against a table. "It is, sir," affably responded that person. "I have brought round a little trifle that I dashed off last night," said the visitor; "the topic is seasonable, and I thought you would like to publish it," and he produced a neatly written manuscript. Of course it was an "Ode to Spring." The editor took it gently, and having gazed upon it for an instant, said sternly, as he handed it back to the author, "I think, sir, you have mistaken the character of our paper. We can admit nothing profane in our columns, and I am surprised that you should enter the field of literature without having learned how to spell." "Profanity?—how to spell?" gasped the astonished bard. "Yes, sir," continued the editor, pointing to a passage which had caught his eagle eye; "here you say: 'How sweet in meadows green to view the lambs, innocent creatures, frolicking with their dams.' 'Dams' is spelled with an 'n' and is usually written with a long dash. I cannot undertake to sully the pages of my paper with aught that will bring a blush to the cheek of the youngest boy. Good morning, sir. When you have mastered the rudiments of orthography and learned common decency, I shall be pleased to consider anything you may bring."

PAPER TEETH.

[From the New York World.] An English homeopathic newspaper opens a new prospect of boundless wealth to paper manufacturers and the gullible people. It announces a novelty in the way of "paper teeth." With his collars in his coat-pocket and a fresh set of teeth in his pocket-book, how lightly may the bagman of the period laugh at railway regulations concerning excessive luggage! The teeth in question, as you require them, or trade terms twenty-six as twenty-four. Even the bagman who saw no medium between the decent economy of a single shirt and the reckless extravagance of a hundred shirts need not grudge himself a full masticatory set of thirty-two teeth at these rates. The run is on ivory and cream-laid, few caring for blue-wave or black-edged teeth. Of course paper has the advantage of being easily gummed in. They improve the speech; indeed, a man with a complete top and bottom-plate paper set will talk like a book. A few have them either with crest or monogram.

THE CROPS IN LINCOLN COUNTY.—The Pioche Record of last week give the annexed report of the crop prospects in that section.

The ranchers throughout the county report the crops as doing well and think that that this year's crop will be a very bountiful one. The indications is that the late rains and snows have acted like a charm on the hills and in the valleys and that the ranges will be covered with grass. The fruit in this portion of the county has been entirely killed, the snow storm on Sunday last blasting the little hopes the settlers of Panaca entertained of raising any fruit. Piochers will now, as they have done heretofore, be compelled to content themselves eating pork and beans instead of strawberries and cream.

A GREAT WORK.—Our citizens are scarcely aware of the progress which the Southern Pacific Railroad is making toward forming a connection with railroads in the Mississippi Valley. The Southern Pacific Railroad is now actually completed for a distance of nearly 900 miles. It is 874 miles from San Francisco to Maricopa Wells, Arizona, and the road is already completed some miles east of that town. It is but 833 miles from San Francisco over the Central Pacific Railroad to Salt Lake—Ogden. So the Southern Pacific Railroad forms an outlet for San Francisco trade equal in length to the Central Pacific, a work which was considered a marvel a few years ago.—[Call]

LEO BROKEN.—An elderly man, familiarly called "Uncle Ben Taget," who has been working at Culverwell's ranch, in the Meadow Valley Wash, met with an accident Wednesday whereby his left leg was broken. While riding a horse at the ranch the animal stumbled and fell, falling on Uncle Ben's left leg, and fracturing both bones below the knee. He was brought to town Thursday morning and the doctor set the bones. He is now doing very well.—[Pioche Record, 26th.]

THE man who wanted to kiss Susan B. Anthony was told that she would have none of his lip, neither.

FOR SALE.—Burbank's Seedling Potatoes, 3 cents a pound; also Peerless, or No. 6, for sale; also No. 1 Timothy and Clover hay, first and second crops. Address Mrs. C. B. Norcross, Reno or leave orders at the Granger Store. Orders promptly filled.
